PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

On March 29, 2011, Judge Jacobson entered an Order (the "March 29th Order") approving a March 18, 2011 Stipulation (the "Stipulation") submitted by and between Edward J. Dauber, Esq., the Court appointed counsel, and BAC Home Loans Servicing, LP, Citibank, N.A., Citi Residential Lending, Inc., GMAC Mortgage, LLC, JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., Chase Home Finance, LLC, OneWest Bank, FSB, Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., and Wells Fargo Financial America, Inc. (collectively the "Respondents").

Following the issuance of the Court's December 20, 2010 Order to Show Cause, counsel for the various banks met with Edward Dauber and the Honorable Richard J. Williams, J.A.D., Ret., the Special Master appointed pursuant to Paragraph 2 of the March 29th Order, in an attempt to resolve the issues raised in the Order to Show Cause. Those meetings led to an agreement which is set forth in the Stipulation. The Stipulation requires the Respondents to provide a series of documents which Judge Williams is to review, as set forth in Paragraphs 7-10 of the Stipulation, and establishes the process for submitting and reviewing such materials.

Pursuant to Paragraph 5 of the Stipulation, each Respondent is required to provide a list, by caption and docket number, of all contested and uncontested residential mortgage foreclosure matters pending in the Superior Court of New Jersey as of December 20, 2010. This list is defined in the Stipulation as the "'Servicer Portfolio".

On April 7, 2011, Respondents provided Judge Williams with the materials required under the Stipulation with the exception of the Servicer Portfolios, which are the subject of this joint motion to seal pursuant to R. 1:38-11. All bank Respondents believe that they could have properly asserted confidentiality as to additional documents used in their prima facie showings beyond those for which they are making such an application. Respondents have chosen not to seek such broad protection in order to maximize the transparency of this important process to the public.

Paragraph 9 of the Stipulation sets forth the procedure for filing documents, materials and other information under the Stipulation, including confidential information. Pursuant to this paragraph, "[w]ith regard to any materials to which any respondent is making a claim of confidentiality, the respondent shall not submit the materials to the Special Master or Special Counsel, but shall first move on short notice and on an expedited basis before Judge Jacobson for an Order to seal such materials in accordance with Court Rule 1:38-11." Accordingly, Respondents now move to seal the Servicer Portfolios.

Each of the Servicer Portfolios is voluminous. Rather than providing the Court with several thousand pages of documents, each Respondent is providing the Court with a random sample of five pages from its Servicer Portfolio. If the Court requires, each bank will provide the Court with its entire Servicer Portfolio.

The Servicer Portfolios contain the caption, docket number, and contested status of the pending foreclosure matters. Respondents recognize that the information included in the Servicer Portfolios is a matter of public record and is publically available at the Superior Court Clerk's Office. Privacy concerns are raised, however, because the Servicer Portfolios aggregate personal information for thousands of borrowers in a central clearinghouse of information, and make the information accessible for commercial advertisers, solicitors and various disreputable individuals and companies – such as the foreclosure rescue scammers currently the subject of intense scrutiny and concern by government regulators and Seton Hall Law School's Center for Social Justice – who utilize such borrower databases as a veritable shopping list to contact the borrowers. Personal information from court records is routinely harvested by information brokers for resale in bulk. Personal information included in a court filing can, therefore, subject the person in question to unwanted, and often to unscrupulous, direct marketing. One reseller-in-bulk, ChoicePoint, suffered a significant data security breach. Information that ChoicePoint gathered, including from court records, was resold in more than 150,000 instances to members of an international ring of fraudsters and identity thieves. "Attorney General Gansler Reaches Agreement With Choicepoint," US State News (June 4, 2007).

The reason for filing the Servicer Portfolios is unrelated to the merits of the prima facie showings of readiness. The sole and limited purpose of providing the data to the Special Master is to facilitate, pursuant to Paragraph 7 of the Stipulation, choosing sample files to review in order to verify that the banks are following the processes described in their prima facie showings. Thus, ordering confidentiality protection of the Servicer Portfolio compilations will not in any way sacrifice the court's interest in a fully transparent process.

ARGUMENT

I. GOOD CAUSE EXISTS FOR THE ENTRY OF AN ORDER SEALING THE SERVICER PORTFOLIOS.

It is well-settled law in New Jersey that courts have discretionary power to control and seal court records, including "any information maintained by a court in any form in connection with a case or judicial proceeding, including but not limited to pleadings, motions, briefs and their respective attachments, evidentiary exhibits, indices, calendars and dockets." R. 1:38-2(a)(1); see also Hammock v. Hoffman-LaRoche, Inc., 142 N.J. 356, 381 (1995) ("The questions whether to seal or unseal documents are addressed to the trial courts discretion."). Good cause exists to seal a court record where (1) disclosure will likely cause a clearly defined and serious injury to any person or entity; and (2) the privacy interest of such person or entity substantially outweighs the public's right to access the record. R. 1:38-11. The New Jersey Supreme Court has observed that the "requirements of confidentiality are greater in some situations than others" and, as a result, "a flexible balancing process adaptable to different circumstances must be conducted to determine whether the need for secrecy substantially outweighs the presumption of access." Hammock, 142 N.J. at 381.

New Jersey courts have recognized that "[a]n individual's interest in controlling the dissemination of information regarding personal matters does not dissolve simply because that information may be available to the public in some form." Burnett v. County of Bergen, 198 N.J. 408, 430 (2009) (quoting Doe v. Portiz, 142 N.J. 1, 83 (1995)); see also U.S Dep't of Justice v. Reports Comm. for Freedom of Press, 489 U.S. 749, 771, 109 S. Ct. 1468, 1480 (1989) ("[T]he fact that 'an event is not wholly 'private' does not mean that an individual has no interest in limiting disclosure or dissemination of that information.").

Although the specific issue in Burnett was the redaction of social security numbers from real estate documents on file in the Bergen County Clerk's Office, the Supreme Court's discussion of an individual's privacy interest in publically available documents is equally applicable here. In Burnett, the Court concluded that the "bulk disclosure of realty records to a company planning to include them in a searchable, electronic database would eliminate the practical obscurity that now envelops those records at the . . . Clerk's Office." 198 N.J. at 430-31. As explained by the Court, "there is a vast difference between the public records that might be found after a diligent search of courthouse files, county archives, and local police stations throughout the country and a computerized summary located in a single clearinghouse of information." Id. at 431 (quoting Reports Committee, 489 U.S. at 764, 109 S. Ct. at 1477). Accordingly, the Court reasoned that the "compilation of otherwise hard-to-obtain information alters the privacy interest implicated by disclosure of that information." Id. The Court in Burnett also observed that even though the realty records were compiled by private attorneys and individuals, Reporters Committee and Doe -- cases in which state and federal governments compiled the information at issue – are instructive and "highlight the fact that composite documents . . . implicate privacy concerns much more broadly than documents with one item alone." Id.

Respondents submit that the Servicer Portfolios, which compile "otherwise hard-to-obtain information" from documents publically available in the Superior Court Clerk's Office implicate the same privacy concerns recognized by the Burnett Court, and should be sealed pursuant to R. 1:38-11.

An individual's privacy interests also may be implicated where "disclosure of a person's address results in unsolicited contact." Doe v. Poritz, 142 N.J. 1, 83-84 (citing United States Dep't of Defense v. Federal Labor Relations Authority, 510 U.S. 497, 501, 114 S. Ct. 1006, 1015-16, 127 L. Ed. 2d 325, 338 (1994) (recognizing significance of disclosure of home address where commercial advertisers and solicitors would have access); Painting Indus. of Hawaii Mkt. Recovery Fund v. United States Dep't of Air Force, 26 F.3d 1479, 1483 (9th Cir.1994) (noting that an "invasion of privacy . . . can result from release of a list of names and addresses coupled with a characteristic susceptible to commercial exploitation")). The Court in Doe stated that "[t]he fact that [an individual's] home address may be publicly available, therefore, does not lead ineluctably to the conclusion that public disclosure of his address implicates no privacy interest." Doe,142 N.J. at 83.

Respondents respectfully submit that they have met their burden of establishing good cause to seal the Servicer Portfolios pursuant to R. 1:38-11. As set forth above, there is a clearly defined and serious injury to the borrowers whose information is compiled into the Servicer Portfolios, namely, that the availability of the information in a single clearinghouse of information will expose the borrowers to the risk of commercial exploitation and unsolicited contact from commercial advertisers, solicitors, and foreclosure rescue scammers.

The borrowers' interest in maintaining the privacy of their personal information compiled in the Servicer Portfolios clearly outweighs the public's right to access the Servicer Portfolios. Significantly, the information included in the Servicer Portfolios is publically available to any member of the public who searches the dockets and files in the Superior Court Clerk's Office. Respondents do not seek to limit the public's access to the underlying information. Rather, it is access to the compilation of information in the Servicer Portfolios that tips the balance in favor of non-disclosure.

Nothing in this application, if granted, will stand in the way of the work of the Special Master, Special Counsel or the Office of Foreclosure. We understand Kevin Wolfe, Esq., needs this information and he will get it. Because the sole and limited purpose of providing the data compiled in the Servicer Portfolios is to facilitate the Special Master's ability to select sample files to review in order to verify that the banks are following the processes described in their prima facie showings, ordering confidentiality protection of the Servicer Portfolio compilations will not in any way sacrifice the court's interest in a fully transparent process.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Respondents respectfully submit that they have demonstrated good cause as required by R. 1:38-11, and that an Order should be entered sealing the Servicer Portfolios.
