Ocean Vicinage to Hold Landlord/Tenant Workshops

Toms River, NJ - Ocean Vicinage will hold two landlord/tenant workshops on Tuesday, Jan. 8. The workshops will take place in Mancini Hall at the Toms River Branch of the Ocean County Library, 101 Washington Street, Toms River. The first presentation will be from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. and the second will be from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The workshops are an opportunity for the public to understand court processes and procedures involved in landlord/tenant matters. Issues that will be addressed at the seminars include how a complaint is filed, what happens during the day in court, the eviction process and illegal lockouts. There will be a question-and-answer period after each presentation.

There will be a representative from the Puerto Rican Action Board present to assist Spanish-speaking attendees. The seminars are free and do not require any type of pre-registration.

For more event information, please call Ann Marie Fleury, Esq., ombudsman, at 732-288-7212.
