Mercer Vicinage Announces Expanded Wireless Access

Trenton – Mercer Vicinage Assignment Judge Linda R. Feinberg has announced that public wireless Internet service has been expanded into all Judiciary public areas within the Civil Courthouse at 175 South Broad Street. Previously this service had only been available in the jury room and law library.

With the expansion, attorneys and other courthouse visitors will be able to connect to the Internet from their wireless devices. This service will allow court users to stay in contact with their offices, check e-mail, access on-line documents and databases, or search the Internet while they wait for a court event.

This easy-to-use service can be accessed by double clicking on the wireless network icon and then clicking on the “New Jersey Judiciary Public Network” selection. The connection to the network is terminated at log-off or the shut-down of the device. While the wireless network allows broad access to the Internet, some sites may be restricted due to content.
