Atlantic County Judges Preside Over Mock Trial Competition

Mainland Regional High School students defeated Holy Spirit High School in the Atlantic County High School Mock Trial Competition on Monday, Feb.9.

The competition pitted teams from each participating high school against each other as they played various courtroom roles, including attorneys, witnesses, and jurors, in a fictional court case developed by the NJSBF.

Superior Court Judges Bernard E. DeLury, Nelson C. Johnson, Mark H. Sandson, Steven P. Perskie and William E. Nugent presided over the competitions, which were held at both the Criminal Courts Complex and the Atlantic County Civil Courts Building.

The Mainland Regional team will compete against the winning team from Ocean County at the Southern Regional Mock Trial Competition 10 a.m. on Thursday, Feb. 12. Regional winners from around the state will compete in the semi-final round on March 24 to determine who will proceed to the state finals on March 31.

The Atlantic County High School Mock Trial Program is sponsored by the New Jersey State Bar Foundation in cooperation with the Atlantic County Bar Association and the Superior Court of Atlantic and Cape May counties.
