MONMOUTH VICINAGE PROBATION OFFICERS HONORED

FREEHOLD – Four Monmouth Vicinage Probation Officers were proud recipients of awards from the Chief Probation Officers of New Jersey (CPONJ). Acting Administrative Director Glenn A. Grant, J.A.D., presided over a presentation ceremony held at the Richard J. Hughes Justice Complex in Trenton on July 27.

The awards were presented in association with National Probation, Parole and Community Supervision Week to honor probation staff for outstanding leadership and achievements in juvenile and adult supervision and child support matters.

Senior Probation Officer Robert Gilmartin, who has served in the probation division for 28 years, was presented with a Certificate of Meritorious Service for exceptional contributions to the advancement of probation's role within the Judiciary. Career Achievement Awards were presented to Senior Probation Officers Paul Skerl, Martin Anisko and Ursula Carkhuff. Skerl, who is assigned to the community service and collections unit, was recognized for his valuable impact during his 23 years of service. Anisko, of the adult supervision unit, was commended for implementing innovative methods in caseload management while reinforcing outcome-based supervision standards. He has been a probation officer for 30 years. Carkhuff was recognized for her vast knowledge of the judicial system, proactive caseload management, professionalism and 22 years of dedication to the Judiciary.

Trial Court Administrator Marsi L. Perkins said, "The Monmouth Vicinage genuinely admires our devoted force of probation professionals. Their essential role in the court system has resulted in positive outcomes for many of our citizens."

The Monmouth Vicinage chief probation officer, assistant chiefs and supervisors also sponsored an informal gathering as a tribute to staff's service to the vicinage and the community.
