Somerset/Hunterdon/Warren Vicinage to Sponsor Talk on Diversity and Inclusion

The Somerset/Hunterdon/Warren Vicinage Advisory Committee on Minority Concerns for Somerset, Hunterdon, and Warren Counties will sponsor a free seminar, "Intent Doesn't Always Equal Impact: Understanding the Intersection of Diversity and Inclusion," on Thursday, May 7 from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Somerset County Historic Courthouse, 20 N. Bridge St., Somerville.

The seminar will focus on the ways in which social identities, early messages, and implicit bias influence decisions, attitudes and behaviors. The session also will examine how historic moments in the nation's history continue to impact the country through racial profiling, immigration, and hate crimes.

The seminar will be moderated by Elizabeth Williams-Riley, president and CEO of the American Conference on Diversity.

Seating for this seminar is limited. Participants should contact Denise Paternoster to register in advance at 908-231-7624 or SomersetHelp@judiciary.state.nj.us. Light refreshments will be served.

For attorneys, this program has been approved by the Board of Continuing Legal Education of the Supreme Court of New Jersey for a one hour general CLE or ethics/professionalism credit. CLE credits are based on the total instruction time of the program and are an estimate. For information on CLE credits, contact Carol Ann Winder, executive director of the Somerset County Bar Association, at 908-685-2323 or cawinder@somersetbar.com.

Educators who attend will receive a certificate indicating that they have earned three hours of professional development credits. Contact Denise Paternoster for more information regarding credits for educators.

The Minority Concerns Committee includes Superior Court employees and community representatives. The Committee develops programs that enable the court to better serve the community.
