Join the Judiciary for an open and constructive discussion of the challenges faced by members of the legal profession. It aims to raise awareness of the heightened risks of mental health issues, substance use disorders, and suicide among law professionals.

Invited speakers will provide information about the resources for judges, attorneys, and others who are in need of help as well as the avenues available to colleagues, friends, and family members who wish to confidentially and safely seek help for someone they know. Attendees will benefit from hearing the stories of individuals who have experienced life-altering challenges, including professional discipline, civil and criminal legal penalties, and lost employment and relationships, along with how people overcame those difficulties to regain their professional standing and personal wellbeing.

This event is free and open to the public.
