

NOTICE TO THE BAR

LANDLORD TENANT –AMENDMENTS TO RULE 1:38-3(f) TO REMOVE FROM PUBLIC ACCESS RECORDS OF LANDLORD TENANT CASES (a) IN WHICH NO JUDGMENT FOR POSSESSION EVER HAS BEEN ENTERED, AND (b) IN WHICH A JUDGMENT FOR POSSESSION WAS ENTERED SEVEN YEARS AGO OR LONGER

The Supreme Court in the attached February 28, 2022 order has amended Rule 1:38-3(f) (“Court Records Excluded from Public Access”) to remove from public access records of landlord tenant cases in two instances: (1) in cases adjudicated or otherwise disposed of where no judgment for possession has ever been entered; and (2) in cases where a judgment for possession was entered seven years ago or longer. The amendments are effective May 1, 2022.

The amendments arise out of the Court’s July 16, 2020 Action Plan for Ensuring Equal Justice where the Court stated its commitment to examine public access to court records that as currently maintained may create hardships for disadvantaged populations. The Court acknowledged that landlords should have access to relevant information as to a prospective tenant. Similarly, in the interests of equity, information regarding tenants that is dated should not create indefinite obstacles to rental housing. These amendments balance those interests.
