NOTICE TO THE BAR

MULTICOUNTY LITIGATION APPLICATION FOR NEW JERSEY STATE-COURT LITIGATION INVOLVING PROCEED[®] AND PROLENE[®] HERNIA MESH PRODUCTS

The Supreme Court has received an application pursuant to Directive #08-12, "Revised Multicounty Litigation Guidelines," for Multicounty Litigation (MCL) designation of New Jersey state-court litigation against Johnson and Johnson and Ethicon, Inc. alleging injuries as a result of use of the Proceed[®] Surgical Mesh and Proceed[®] Ventral (collectively "Proceed[®]") and Prolene[®] Hernia System hernia mesh products. The application also requests assignment of the proposed MCL to the Middlesex Vicinage.

Anyone wishing to comment on or object to this application should provide such comments or objections in writing, with relevant supporting documentation, by Friday, January 25, 2019 to:

Hon. Glenn A. Grant Acting Administrative Director of the Courts Attention: MCL Comments – Proceed[®] and Prolene[®] Hernia Mesh Products Hughes Justice Complex, PO Box 037 Trenton, New Jersey 08625-0037

Comments or objections also be submitted by email to Comments.mailbox@njcourts.gov.

A copy of the application submitted to the Court is posted with this Notice on the Judiciary's Internet Website (www.njcourts.gov) in the Multicounty Litigation Information Center (https://www.njcourts.gov/attorneys/mcl/index.html)

Re: Application Pursuant to R. 4:38A ("Centralized Management of Multicounty Litigation") Request for Multi-County Litigation Designation for Proceed and Prolene Hernia System Mesh Products

Dear Judge Grant:

We submit this letter on behalf of 205 Plaintiffs¹ who have cases pending in Middlesex County, New Jersey, involving either a Proceed or Prolene Hernia System product. These are hernia mesh products designed, manufactured, marketed, and sold by Defendants, Johnson and Johnson and Ethicon, Inc. (collectively "Defendants"). The products this application seeks to centralize are the Proceed Surgical Mesh and Proceed Ventral Patch (collectively "Proceed"), as well as the Prolene Hernia System ("PHS"). These products comprise over 99% of the hernia mesh cases currently pending against Ethicon in Middlesex County. In addition, Plaintiffs anticipate hundreds of additional cases will be filed in the coming months, and that those filings will continue to grow exponentially over the next several years.

Accordingly, as the Administrative Office of the Courts has consistently done in the past when presented with large numbers of complex cases sharing similar products, injuries, and the same allegedly responsible party, we respectfully request that the Proceed and PHS Hernia Mesh cases listed in the attached "Exhibit A" be given Multi-County Litigation designation in accordance with Rule 4:38A.

BACKGROUND

This application addresses the approximately 200 currently pending cases, and any future similar product liability cases filed in the Superior Court against these Defendants alleging injuries attributable to the Proceed or PHS hernia mesh products. All allege that Defendants' Proceed or PHS hernia mesh was defective, and that those defects caused the mesh to fail, resulting in serious injuries and the need for additional medical intervention.

The Proceed and PHS products are all manufactured and sold by Defendants Ethicon and Johnson and Johnson. All are polypropylene-based mesh prosthetics indicated for the repair of hernias. These products are defective and unsafe for their designed and intended use.

The claims that are the subject of this application have one important commonality: all actions allege injuries stemming from certain deleterious properties of polypropylene, the base component of the products discussed in this application. In particular, all injuries alleged in the actions are caused by the interrelated processes of (1) polypropylene degradation via oxidation and/or (2) polypropylene-induced chronic inflammation. This commonality among the claims, as well as the design differences among the products, are explored in more detail below.

Plaintiffs made a previous MCL application regarding these and other Ethicon mesh products which was granted in part only with regard to the Physiomesh hernia mesh products. See Exhibit B, 8/15/18 Notice to the Bar. Thereafter, Defendants sought to transfer all Proceed and PHS cases to Somerset County. The Court transferred the cases to Middlesex County, but reminded counsel that they could re-apply for MCL designation:

However, this does not preclude a future application by plaintiffs seeking again MCL designation for these cases. This Court is aware of such a scenario that occurred with another product where the first MCL designation was declined, but upon second application was granted. Please do not take these comments as any presumption or conclusion on my part that these non-physiomesh hernia cases will receive MCL designation in the future. What I am recognizing, what this Court is recognizing is that it's certainly is possible that upon a second application providing additional information an MCL may be approved.

See Exhibit C, September 28, 2018 Transcript of Hearing, T. 37:9-21.

On October 25, 2018—after these cases were transferred to Middlesex—the Civil Division Manager wrote to counsel regarding these cases:

Please see the enclosed #08-12 directive regarding Multicounty Litigation Guidelines and Criteria for Designation, which outlines the procedure for requesting designation of a case as multicounty litigation for centralized management.

See Exhibit D, October 25, 2018 Letter from Ian Ratzlaff, Civil Division Manager – Middlesex County.

Following the guidance from both Courts, Plaintiffs now respectfully submit this application for only the Proceed and PHS mesh claims. Plaintiffs submit that these products are appropriate for a single MCL designation, but both respective product lines have sufficiently numerous claims already filed to warrant an individual MCL should the Court find that separate designations will provide the most benefit.²

Proceed Surgical Mesh and Proceed Ventral Patch

Proceed Surgical Mesh ("Proceed") and Proceed Ventral Patch ("PVP") have designs incorporating a layer of oxidized regenerated cellulose ("ORC") over a layer of polydioxanone, which in turn coats a polypropylene mesh. Both Proceed and PVP are marketed as being safe to implant intraperitoneally (i.e., on the innermost surface of the abdominal wall, in contact with the bowel). Polypropylene is known to cause the formation of dense scar tissue (known as adhesions) when in direct contact with the bowel. Therefore, the stated purpose of the ORC layer on both Proceed products is to form an adhesion-resistant, dissolvable barrier between the polypropylene component of the mesh and the bowel. However, Proceed and PVP have been found to contribute to adhesion formation and scar tissue proliferation by operation of multiple design defects.

The defective designs of these products begin with the use of polypropylene as a base material. For decades it has been known that polypropylene incites a profound acute and chronic inflammatory response when in contact with soft tissue.³ One prominent feature of the human inflammatory foreign body response is the formation of scar tissue. Because the inflammatory response to polypropylene continues as long as the polypropylene is present in the body, the formation of scar tissue (alongside many other biological processes) continues long after the initial post-operative healing phase. As a result, dense, fibrotic scar tissue forms among the polypropylene filaments making up the mesh and, after the ORC has dissolved, between the mesh and the bowel. Furthermore, the proliferation of scar tissue among the polypropylene filaments leads to contracture or shrinkage of the mesh, a process causing a variety of injuries reflected in these actions.

Another common defect contributing to adhesion formation is the use of ORC as a supposed "anti-adhesion barrier". Defendants' ORC compound was first designed and patented as a hemostatic agent. That is, in the presence of blood or other fibrinous exudate (an unavoidable circumstance when implanting a foreign material in the human body), ORC causes blood to clot. One of the mechanisms by which blood clots, i.e., the expression of vascular endothelial growth factor, is the same mechanism that causes adhesions to form. In other words, Defendants knew or should have known that ORC was not an effective adhesion prevention barrier because the process making ORC an effective hemostat is the very same process leading to the formation of painful, sometimes life-threatening, adhesions.

In addition to injuries resulting from dense, fibrotic adhesions, the Proceed meshes have an alarmingly high rate of mechanical failure, sometimes described by surgeons as "Proceed rupture." The phenomenon of Proceed rupture arises from yet another design defect—the Defendants' choice to sterilize the products using gamma irradiation. The Proceed meshes are the only polypropylene mesh products in the world which are sterilized using gamma irradiation. The reason gamma is not typically used to sterilize polypropylene is that medical product manufacturers (including Defendants) have known for decades that gamma irradiation causes rapid oxidation of the polymer, drastically reducing its molecular weight and thus its tensile strength. Because other sterilization methods would significantly degrade the ORC, however, Defendants ignored the lessons of decades of polymer science and prior litigations involving their products, and designed the Proceed meshes to go through a gamma sterilization cycle. Although this subjects patients to an increased risk of dangerous reoperation as a result of mechanical failure of the Proceed mesh, Defendants have never shared this information with the physicians to whom they market their products.

Prolene Hernia System

The Prolene Hernia System ("PHS") is a three-dimensional mesh device consisting of two flat layers of heavyweight, small-pore monofilament polypropylene mesh, separated by a cylinder of heavyweight, small-pore monofilament polypropylene mesh. Defendants market PHS for both inguinal and ventral hernia repairs. Although PHS is intended to minimize the probability of hernia recurrence, its design attempts to do so by placing a polypropylene layer in the anterior and posterior compartments of the inguinal region or abdominal wall—which is an excessive amount of small-pore mesh material beyond that which is typically present in a comparative hernia mesh product. The high volume of polypropylene incorporated in the PHS design results in an intense foreign body inflammatory response that can produce a cascade of injurious complications arising from the scarformation processes described above. These include, but are not limited to, profound contracture of the mesh, and chronic and debilitating pain, identical defects to those described for the Proceed meshes above.

Additionally, PHS is known to erode through native tissues and migrate away from the situs of implant. This phenomenon is due largely to the fact that polypropylene degrades in the body through oxidation. As the polypropylene oxidizes, it loses the flexibility it has at implantation and becomes rigid and brittle. That rigidity, coupled with its presence in soft tissue—especially dynamic anatomical areas such as the groin—creates a risk that the polypropylene will erode through those tissues.

Commonalities between Proceed and PHS.

Significant commonalities exist between the product lines, germane to Rule 4:38A interests. With regard to the designs of the products, both the Proceed and PHS meshes are made from knitted polypropylene, and both entail design elements which (1) set them apart from an uncoated, twodimensional mesh design and (2) make them uniquely prone to complications. Second, chronic and profound inflammation caused by the presence of polypropylene in soft tissue and/or the inexorable degradation of polypropylene in vivo are at the heart of every Proceed and PHS case in this application. As a result, there is significant overlap among Proceed and PHS in the presentation of injuries and treatment of those injuries. Plaintiffs suffering injuries from Proceed and PHS, respectively, often report chronic, debilitating pain, migration of the product away from the original implant site, infection, and/or adhesion of the product to tissues and structures to which the product is not meant to adhere. For both Proceed and PHS, onset of conditions such as these often necessitate surgical intervention, including complete or partial removal of the mesh. Thus, there will be significant overlap in discovery on issues of polypropylene sourcing, filament manufacturing, post-market surveillance, causation and countless other issues. Indeed, Defendants have proposed to serve the same document production for all Proceed cases and all PHS cases. Further, there are many corporate witnesses with knowledge relevant to both the Proceed and PHS devices.

COORDINATION IS APPROPRIATE

As set forth in the guidelines, multi-county litigation is warranted when litigation involves a large number of parties; many claims with common, recurrent issues of law and fact; geographical dispersement of parties; a high degree of commonality of injury; a value interdependence between different claims; and a degree of remoteness between the court and actual decision-makers in the litigation, among other considerations.

This litigation meets the above criteria. Many common, recurrent issues of law and fact are associated with this class of products. They share common Defendants (and likely the same corporate witnesses), design elements, materials, manufacturing and production methods, and underlying science. Additionally, the parties are geographically dispersed, (as these products were sold throughout the nation); a high degree of commonality of injury exists; and a likely value interdependence exists among different claims. All of these considerations warrant MCL designation.

At least 200 cases have already been filed, and all involve recurrent legal issues of design defect, failure to warn, breaches of warranties and the possibility of manufacturing defects. There are significant overlapping factual liability issues relating to the selection of the polypropylene and other materials utilized in Defendants' hernia mesh; its manufacture and sterilization, the nature of the defect; delay or failure in recalling the products; failure to comply with good manufacturing practices; and a host of other related factual issues.

Separate discovery demands have been served in many of the cases, including pathology requests necessitating a uniform pathology protocol, further necessitating an MCL designation for these cases as it will allow for efficiencies in discovery that will conserve the resources of the judicial system and the parties.

Structure of Coordination

The undersigned counsel contend that the interests of efficiency and resource conservation of the judiciary, as well as of the parties, would support a single MCL in which cases involving Proceed and PHS are coordinated. Due to the commonality of Defendants and allegations between Proceed and PHS cases, as well as significant overlap in relevant documents, corporate witnesses, expert discovery and counsel for the respective parties, coordination into a single MCL of the Proceed and PHS Hernia

Mesh cases would serve the purposes of Rule 4:38A, in that it would effect considerable conservation of time and resources.

Plaintiffs propose the following New Jersey venues for consolidation as there are arguments favoring any of the three potential MCL counties:

- Atlantic: the Physiomesh MCL is currently pending in Atlantic County. Approximately 40% of the cases in that MCL allege injuries caused by both a Physiomesh device and a Proceed or PHS device;
- Middlesex: the cases affected by this MCL application are currently pending in Middlesex County; and
- Bergen: the pelvic mesh MCL is currently pending in Bergen County, the defendants and allegations in the pelvic mesh litigation overlap with the allegations outlined in this application.

In light of all the factors and information discussed above, the parties respectfully request that the Proceed and PHS cases be designated as Multicounty Litigation for Centralized Management pursuant to Rule 4:38A. Plaintiffs defer to the judiciary to define the scope and locus of the MCL(s) necessary to effectuate the policies underlying Rule 4:38A.

NOTICE TO THE BAR

MULTICOUNTY LITIGATION – PHYSIOMESH FLEXIBLE COMPOSITE MESH LITIGATION

A previous Notice to the Bar requested comments on an application for multicounty litigation (MCL) designation of New Jersey state-court litigation alleging injuries resulting from use of certain hernia mesh products. This Notice is to advise that the Supreme Court, after considering the application and the comments received, has determined to designate only the cases involving allegations of injuries from use of Physiomesh Flexible Composite Mesh as multicounty litigation. The Court has assigned this MCL to Atlantic County for centralized case management by Superior Court Judge Nelson C. Johnson.

Published with this Notice is the Supreme Court's July 17, 2018 Order. This Order is posted in the Multicounty Litigation Center http://www.njcourts.gov/attorneys/mcl/index/html on the Judiciary's website (www.njcourts.gov). Judge Johnson's Initial Case Management Order will be posted in the Multicounty Litigation Center once issued.

Questions concerning this matter may be directed to Taironda E. Phoenix, Esq., Assistant Director for Civil Practice, Administrative Office of the Courts, Hughes Justice Complex, P. O. Glèm A. Grant, J.A.D. Acting Administrative Director of the Courts

Dated: August 15, 2018

SUPREME COURT OF NEW JERSEY

On application made pursuant to Rule 4:38A and the Multicounty Litigation Guidelines promulgated by Directive # 08-12 in accordance with that Rule, it is hereby ORDERED that all pending and future New Jersey state court actions against Johnson & Johnson and Ethicon, Inc., alleging injuries as a result of use of Physiomesh Flexible Composite Mesh be designated as multicounty litigation ("MCL") for centralized management purposes; and

It is FURTHER ORDERED that any and all such complaints that have been filed in the various counties and that are under or are awaiting case management and/or discovery shall be transferred from the county of venue to the Superior Court, Law Division, Atlantic County and that, pursuant to N.J. Const. (1947), Art.VI, sec.2, par.3, the provisions of Rule 4:3-2 governing venue in the Superior Court are supplemented and relaxed so that all future such complaints, no matter where they might be venued, shall be filed in Atlantic County; and

It is FURTHER ORDERED that Superior Court Judge Nelson C. Johnson shall oversee management and trial issues for such cases and may, in his discretion, return such cases to the original county of venue for disposition, and

It is FURTHER ORDERED that no Mediator or Master may be appointed in this litigation without the express prior approval of the Chief Justice.

For the Court Q.

ACTING ADMINISTRATIVE DIRECTOR

Arid

VIA REGULAR MAIL The Hon. Glenn A. Grant, J.A.D. Administrative Director of the Courts Administrative Office of the Courts of the State of New Jersey Richard J. Hughes Justice Complex 25 W. Market Street Trenton, New Jersey 08625

Re: Application Pursuant to R. 4:38A ("Centralized Management of Multicounty Litigation") Request for Multi-County Litigation Designation for Ethicon Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh

Dear Judge Grant:

The below attorneys and firms submit this letter on behalf of sixty-two Plaintiffs who have cases filed in Bergen County, New Jersey involving one or more Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh products designed, manufactured, marketed, and sold by Defendants, Johnson and Johnson and Ethicon, Inc. (collectively "Defendants").¹ We write to advocate for a Multi-County Litigation designation in accordance with Rule 4:38A. There are dozens, if not hundreds of additional cases involving Defendants' Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh, as described below, which will be filed in the near future. In addition to those cases, our current assessment of firms representing Plaintiffs alleging injuries from hernia mesh products suggests that several hundred more cases involving Defendants' Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh will be filed. Accordingly, MCL designation is appropriate and we respectfully submit that MCL designation before The Honorable Rachelle L. Harz, J.S.C. in Bergen County will conserve resources, reduce cost, eliminate delay, and reduce the likelihood of inconsistent results.

This application addresses the approximately 62 currently pending cases, and any future similar cases filed in the Superior Court alleging that Defendants' Multi Layered Hernia Mesh was defective, and that those defects caused the mesh to fail, resulting in serious injuries and the need for additional medical intervention.

The products referred to throughout this application as "Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh" were all manufactured and sold by Defendants and are all polypropylene-based mesh prosthetics indicated for the repair of hernias, including: Proceed Surgical Mesh, Proceed Ventral Patch, Physiomesh Flexible Composite, Prolene 3D Polypropylene Patch, and Prolene Hernia System. Plaintiffs allege that these products are defective and unsafe for their designed and intended use.

Although Defendants manufacture and sell a wide variety of hernia mesh prosthetics, many of which are made of polypropylene, Defendants' Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh share one important characteristic: all of the subject products feature one or more deviations from an uncoated, twodimensional polypropylene mesh design, deviations which (1) increase the type and rate of serious complications and (2) were introduced in order to increase sales by making implantation procedures faster, rather than safer or more effective. These Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh also share one or more of the same or similar constituent materials, and are all manufactured and distributed by Defendants.

PROCEED SURGICAL MESH AND PROCEED VENTRAL PATCH

Proceed Surgical Mesh ("Proceed") and Proceed Ventral Patch ("PVP") are hernia mesh products that have been found to contribute to adhesion formation by operation of multiple design defects. Defendants knew or should have known that was not an effective adhesion prevention barrier and in fact leads to the formation of adhesions, which can be painful and sometimes lifethreatening. Proceed and PVP have an alarmingly high rate of mechanical failure, sometimes described by surgeons as "Proceed rupture".

PHYSIOMESH FLEXIBLE COMPOSITE

The Physiomesh Flexible Composite ("Physiomesh") is marketed as an anti-adhesion barrier mesh, in which the barrier layer that is supposed to prevent scar tissue formation is present on both the side of the mesh which faces the bowel and the side which faces the abdominal wall.

Utilizing an anti-adhesion barrier on the side of a polypropylene hernia mesh graft that faces the abdominal wall increases the risk that the graft will not incorporate into the abdominal wall, causing the graft to fold, buckle, and migrate, posing a threat to adjacent organs.

Poliglecaprone is also known to incite an inflammatory response in soft tissue, causing complications. Defendants were aware of this predisposition prior to market launch of the Physiomesh.

In May of 2016, Defendants issued a "Field Safety Notice" relating to the Physiomesh product, to hospitals and medical providers in various countries worldwide. In this Urgent Field Safety Notice, Defendants advise these providers of "a voluntary product recall".

PROLENE 3D POLYPROPYLENE PATCH

The Prolene 3D Polypropylene Patch ("P3D") is a multi-layered, three-dimensional mesh device. This product is often used to repair inguinal hernias and the design contemplates that the mesh acts as a "plug" in the abdominal cavity, while it secures the repair at the anterior abdominal wall. The design of the P3D is problematic. The intense foreign body inflammatory response causes contracture to the tissue and mesh.

PROLENE HERNIA SYSTEM

Prolene Hernia System ("PHS") is a multi-layered, three-dimensional mesh device. Defendants market PHS for both inguinal and ventral hernia repairs. The PHS is intended to minimize the probability of hernia recurrence, but the design results in an intense foreign body inflammatory response which can cause a cascade of injurious complications, including but not limited to profound contracture of the mesh, chronic and debilitating pain, mesh migration and erosion into nearby organs.

COORDINATION IS APPROPRIATE

As set forth in the guidelines, multi-county litigation is warranted when a litigation involves a large number of parties; many claims with common, recurrent issues of law and fact; there is geographical dispersion of parties; there is a high degree of commonality of injury; there is a value interdependence between different claims; there is a degree of remoteness between the court and actual decision makers in the litigation; among other considerations.

This litigation meets the above criteria. There are many common, recurrent issues of law and fact that are associated with this class of products. These products share common Defendants (and likely the same corporate witnesses), designs, materials, manufacturing and production methods, and underlying science. Additionally, there is geographical dispersion of the parties (as these products were sold throughout the nation), a high degree of commonality of injury; and a likely value interdependence among different claims. All of these considerations warrant MCL designation. The same policies and factors which led the Supreme Court to decide on October 12, 2010, that all pending and future Ethicon and J&J pelvic mesh cases should centralized for management purposes (https://www.judiciary.state.nj.us/attorneys/mcl/bergen/pelvicmesh.html), should compel the granting of the instant application.

At least 62 cases have already been filed, and all involve the recurrent legal issues of design defect, failure to warn, breaches of warranties and the possibility of manufacturing defects. There are significant overlapping factual liability issues relating to the selection of the polypropylene and other materials utilized in Defendants' Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh, how it was manufactured and sterilized, the nature of the defect, any delay or failure in recalling the products, failure to comply with good manufacturing practices, and a host of other related factual issues.

Separate discovery demands have been served in many of the cases, including pathology requests necessitating a uniform pathology protocol. MCL designation is appropriate for these cases, and future filed-cases involving Defendants' Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh, as it will allow for efficiencies in discovery that will conserve the resources of the parties and the judicial system.

At the present time, we do not know precisely how many of these products have been implanted in patients in the United States, but publicly available information indicates there are thousands—if not tens of thousands—of these products implanted into US citizens.

BERGEN IS THE MOST APPROPRIATE VENUE

Pursuant to the Mass Tort Guidelines and Criteria for Designation, questions of fairness, the locations of the parties and counsel, and the existing civil and mass tort caseload are considered in determining where to centralize the management of a mass tort case.

Bergen County is the best venue for the consolidation of the Ethicon Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh cases. The previously-filed Ethicon Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh cases are all pending before various judges in Bergen County. Discovery is underway and has been exchanged in several cases. Geographically, the Bergen venue is conveniently located to regional and international airports. Bergen is within driving distance of Defendant Ethicon's headquarters in Somerville, as well as Defendant Johnson & Johnson's headquarters in New Brunswick.

The existing civil and mass tort caseload in the venue is also an important factor in selecting an MCL venue. According to the New Jersey Courts' website, seven MCLs are pending in the Middlesex County Superior Court, five MCLs are centralized in the Atlantic County Superior Court, (including the most recently assigned MCL, the Firefighter Hearing Loss MCL), and seven MCLs are pending in the Bergen County Superior Court. In addition to their non-asbestos MCL docket, Middlesex County also has over four hundred active asbestos cases as well as twentyseven consumer fraud class actions. In Bergen however, the Stryker Trident Hip Implant Litigation is all but completed, the DePuy ASR Hip Implant litigation announced a global settlement in November 2013, the Stryker Hip/ABG II litigation announced a global settlement in December 2016, and the Pompton Lakes MCL has also recently concluded. The resolution of those matters will reduce the Bergen County MCL caseload significantly. Additionally, Bergen County Superior Court has gained substantial, relevant knowledge in handling the current and prior pelvic mesh cases, including knowledge regarding these Defendants, the materials, manufacturing and sterilization processes used by mesh manufacturers, and the regulatory processes involved in marketing and recalling such devices.

Judge Rachelle L. Harz, who oversees all MCLs in Bergen County and who has already been assigned 6 of these cases² would be an ideal judge to handle this litigation. Judge Harz has valuable experience, including presiding over the Pelvic Mesh litigation, which involves overlapping science and the same Defendants. Judge Harz has presided over the Pelvic Mesh litigation since it was re-assigned to her in August 2016, and since that time has issued over 300 orders, conducted numerous conferences, and has shown a remarkable understanding of the complex scientific issues of Pelvic Mesh, and their intrinsic interrelationship to the legal issues. Many of these scientific and legal issues will predominate in the Ethicon and J&J Hernia Mesh litigation. Accordingly, by far the most logical and fair procedure for the litigants would be for these cases to remain in Bergen County before Judge Harz.

In light of all the factors discussed above, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the New Jersey Supreme Court designate the Ethicon Multi-Layered Hernia Mesh cases for MCL management in the Bergen County Superior Court before Judge Harz.

Respectfully submitted,

4 GOLD VS. ETHICON THE COURT: This is BER-L-8037-17, we just 1 2 have it under, HERNIA MESH VS. ETHICON AND JOHNSON & 3 Fair statement, that's how the caption should JOHNSON. 4 read right now? 5 MR. KINCANNON: The caption -- I think we 6 filed -- well, there are -- there are 109 of these 7 motions. 8 THE COURT: Right. 9 MR. KINCANNON: The first one filed was 10 COTTLE (phonetic). 11 Uh-huh, THE COURT: 12 MR. KINCANNON: That's the first filed case. 13 So, that's what we had done and look to file our 14 omnibus objection under. We ended up filing it under So, I know it's --15 all of them. THE COURT: But for purposes of today 16 Okay. 17 we'll use Docket Number 8037-17, but every one 18 understands what it encompasses. 19 MR. KINCANNON: Perfect. Thank you, Your 20 Honor. 21 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. So, let's have 22 appearances by plaintiff's counsel. MR. KINCANNON: Good morning, 23 Your Honor. 24 I'm Josh Kincannon from the Lomurro law firm. 25 MR. BARRY: James Barry, Your Honor, from the

1	important to state that I am acting today as Judge
2	Mizdol's Mizdol's designee.
3	Judge Mizdol signed an order on September
4	24th, 2018 indicating this matter having been open to
5	the court by defendant seeking change of venue from
6	Bergen County to Somerset County. And upon notice to
7	plaintiffs pursuant to Rule $4:3-3$ (a) and for good cause
8	shown it's on this 24th day of September, 2018 order
9	the Honorable Rachelle Lea Harz, J.S.C. is hereby
10	appointed designee of the assignment judge to hear and
11	determine the application for change of venue in 12^{11}
	accordance with Rule 4:3-3(a) signed by the Honorable
13	Bonnie J. Mizdol assignment judge of the Superior Court
14	here in Bergen County.
15	So, I sit here with unique (Indiscernible)
16	privileged rare opportunity to hear a motion to change
17	venue as the assignment judge.
18	Before we start oral argument, and I
19	recognize it's the motion of defense counsel, can I
20	just ask plaintiff's counsel, after having read all
21	your papers, it would appear as though your position is
22	that any county in New Jersey would be appropriate.
23	Because based upon your understanding of the law and
24	the court rules since Ethicon does business, according
25	to your definition of doing business, in every county
2.5	to your definition of doing business, in every councy

1	then you could file these cases in Cape May. You could
2	file it any county in New Jersey. If I understand the
3	premise of your argument.
4	MR. KINCÁNNON: Yes. Your Honor, looking at
5	the venue rule on the rule about where they're actually
6	conducting business if we look at that and look at
7	these defendants and try and analyze whether they're
8	chess detendants and try and anaryze whether they fe actually doing business in any of these counties
9	sufficient to satisfy that that phrase in the venue
10	rule, I think it's manifest that they are.
11	And I think we can touch on the policy of
12	that, right, the reason that it says that you have to
13	actually being doing business there is so that the
14	defendant has some reasonable foreseeability that if
15	they make those contacts with that venue that it's
16	foreseeable that they may be hailed into court there.

THE COURT: Isn't that a jurisdictional argument that you just made? MR. KINCANNON: Well, --

THE COURT: You know, hailing into court, contacts, that -- that's -- that's a jurisdictional motion. MR. KINCANNON: But generally speaking with regard to the phrase, actually doing business there, cases cited by defendant, CREPY, BUCKLU (phonetic), and

1	others, describe the reason behind saying, actually
2	doing business there, as opposed to just principle
3	place of business. And that's because if they are
4	doing business there, it's reasonable to expect that
5	they may be hailed into the court there.
6	So, for venue purposes we laid venue here because these are giant companies that do business
8	throughout the State of New Jersey. Venue is proper
9	here. This is a Fortune 500 company with 250
10	subsidiaries. They sell products all over the world,
11	all over the country, all over the State, and in Bergen
12	County. Ethicon sells 440 different medical devices.
13	They sell them in New Jersey. They sell them in Bergen
14^{13}	County. Bergen County is the most populist county in
15	the State. We have the largest hospital in the State
16	here.
	Johnson & Johnson makes band-aids and 18
19^{18}	Tylenol. There's no if you look at their papers, nowhere in their papers does the following sentence
20	exist, Johnson & Johnson and Ethicon do not do business
21
22	in Bergen County.
23	THE COURT: But they conceded that.
24	MR. KINCANNON: So, if they're doing business
25	here, then venue is proper here. THE COURT: But so, an answer to my question

10 GOLD VS. ETHICON 1 they have two choices. THE COURT: Oh, oh, so --MR. KINCANNON: You can file in defendant's 2 3 4 backyard here in New Jersey or we could file in federal 5 court, but federal court really is not practically 6 availing. And especially in light of what's really the 7 elephant 8 THE COURT: Ok-- okay. I understand now. 9 Because there's no MDL for these products. Okay. 10 That's correct. MR. KINCANNON: 11 THE COURT: Okay. 12 MR. KINCANNON: And so, I think we would be 13 remiss to ignore the fact that this Court has handled 14polypropylene pelvic mesh cases against these same defendants for years. It's a different product, but there is substantial overlap. This is extruded wove 1516 This is extruded woven 17 polyethylene mesh that is put into the abdomen, that's 18 what this mesh is. 19 We would be remiss as attorneys if we did not 20 consider the fact that this Court and Your Honor is 21 probably one of the top five courts in the entire world in terms of the knowledge of polypropylene pelvic mesh 22 23 and these two defendants. 24 So, bringing it here in Bergen recognizes the 25 tremendous convenience and efficiencies that will be

1	achieved by being here.
2	THE COURT: But that same argument was
3	rejected by Judge Grant and he gave physiomesh to
4	Atlantic. I mean, I understand what you are saying,
5	but that's not how venue is picked or how selection of
6	counties are picked. I mean, that, in essence, is
7	almost like judge shopping.
8	Because well, let's look at a perfect
9	example Judge Higby (phonetic) at pelvic mesh in
10	Atlantic County, right, and she was extraordinarily
11	knowledgeable about pelvic mesh. She was elevated to
12	Appellate Division and then all those cases came Judge
13	Martinotti who nothing about pelvic mesh. And then he
14	had it for two years and then he went to the federal
15	court and then I took over the docket and at the time I
16	knew nothing about pelvic mesh.
17	So, while I understand you're indicating the
18	Court has this knowledge that is not a factor in
19	determining where cases go because where judges go is a
20	moving element and there's no guarantee that a judge
21	won't be transferred to a different county, or have a
22	different assignment, or retire for that matter, or go
23	to the Appellate Division, or go to federal court.
24	So, while that's an understandable idea in
25	practicality it doesn't work that way, but that's not

Sheet 7 _ 12 GOLD VS. ETHICON 1 how cases are assigned or designated. That's not how 2 3 venue is chosen or how it -- an MCL assignment is chosen. 4 MR. KINCANNON: I understand. And I agree 5 Your Honor, but I believe that if they do business, as 6 -- as we've talked about earlier, in every county in 7 New Jersey, then plaintiff is permitted to choose and 8 plaintiff is permitted some modicum of deference in 9 their choice and if we agree that they can be brought 10 in any county, this was plaintiff's choice. And so, 11 they do business here, venue is proper, there is no viable argument of inconvenience. Let's look at the other alternative, right, 12 1314 they would have you send this to Somerset. That's forum shopping, Your Honor. That would be sending us to a court that would -- it would create a substantial 1516 17 amount of delay. And the convenience that they allude 18 to it's really kind of a red herring. They talk about documents and witnesses being 19 available there, but as a practical matter that's not 20 21 No witnesses will be produced at how this plays out. 22 the offices of Ethicon for plaintiff's counsel to 23 Depositions have been taken in the Ethicon depose. 24 hernia mesh litigation in the MDL the same witnesses 25 we'll seek to depose. None of those depositions 13 GOLD VS. ETHICON 1 occurred in Somerset County. 2 THE COURT: Are you involved in the MDL? 3 MR. KINCANNON: 13 So, the convenience of the parties and the delay that 14 would be inherent in the transfer of this that is a -it's a judiciary that is not as sizeable or as used to 15 16 complex administration as -- as this Court is. And --17 and this Court has been able to resolve and move 18 dockets along. 19 These are all things that we may consider, 20 but the bottom line is that venue is proper here. And 21 the alternative sending it to Somerset County, that's -- where they would have it, that's defendant's 22 23 They've got 2,400 employees there. backyard. They've

3	THE COURT: So, you're concerned about the

5	MR. KINCANNON: And and I'm concerned
6	about the jury pool. And if venue is proper here and
7	there's a court here that and defendants are
8	presents litigating thousands of polypropylene pelvic
9	mesh cases in this court currently, it just seems to us
10	that it would be we wouldn't be doing our jobs if we 11
	didn't recognize that there is overlap with experts,
12	with the discovery, with the protective order we're
13	negotiating I'm working off the TBM protective order

15	All of these things that have already been,
16	in some cases, litigated before Your Honor and and
17	we know defendants can live with them because they're
18	moving forward under those orders. And we've are
19	looking to see if we can live with them too. We can
20	move this litigation very expeditiously because so much
21 22	of the work has been done here already.
22	To reinvent that wheel is simply unnecessary
23	because venue is proper here. And there's no real
24	showing of inconvenience on the part of defendants.

2	Division has said as has the Supreme Court that when
3	the plaintiffs are not from the county of venue, their
4	choice of venue is entitled to less deference. And
5	that's what the Supreme Court has said.
6	Plaintiffs in their papers rely on two cases.
7	One is DI DONATO (phonetic), that's an Appellate
8	Division decision where the Appellate Division actually
9	granted leave to appeal on a motion to transfer venue.
10	In DI DONATO the plaintiff was rendered a quadriplegic.
111	He lived in Middlesex County.
12	THE COURT: He couldn't travel.
13	MR. KOTT: He couldn't travel.
14	THE COURT: I read that.
15	MR. KOTT: His his eyewitnesses
16	eyewitnesses to the accident were from Bergen County.
17	And the Court did all of the measuring and sent the
18	Middlesex County quadriplegic to Camden County.
19	The other case the plaintiffs relies is
20	OTINGER (phonetic), which is a decision of Judge Doin
21	(phonetic), on a motion like this motion to transfer
22	from Bergen to Somerset County. The defendants were in
23	Somerset County. Judge Doin
24	THE COURT: They were government officials.
25	MR. KOTT: They were. However, both in DI

	GOLD VS. ETHICON
1	DONATO and OTINGER the Court said that ordinarily and
2	the Court will require is the venue be where the
3	governmental agency is, but nevertheless we're going to
4	go through the analysis of where it's convenient to be
5	because we can choose to not follow that aspect of the
6	court rule. So, both in DI DONATO and in OTINGER the
7	Court went through the analysis and Judge Doin
8 9	concluded that because the defendants were in Somerset
9	the case should be litigated in Somerset.
10	Here is what the plaintiffs say. The
11	plaintiffs say that it would be convenient to litigate
12	here because it's close to major airports, because it's
13	within the driving distance of both Ethicon and
14	Somerset and J&J in Middlesex, and because Your Honor
15	had the pelvic mesh MCL.
16	Ordinarily you decide a case and then it goes
17	to the Appellate court and you get affirmed or
18	reversed. This is unique, you already have the Supreme
19	Court telling you what to do on this. And what I mean
20	by that is those three arguments were exact arguments
21	the plaintiffs made in their MCL designation under
22	physiomesh MCL, close to the airports, driving distance
23	to Somerset and Middlesex, we have a judge here who has
24	extensive experience with mesh products and Ethicon.
25	And the Supreme Court said, we're not going to assign

3	The plaintiffs also do not address in their papers Judge Polifroni's January 25th, 2018 letter in which he noted that in his words, "the most convenient"
5	venue for this these lawsuits is where the corporate
6	defendants have their principle offices. And then he
7	said, which is not in Bergen County. So, this Court
8	should grant the motion to transfer to a more
9	convenient venue.
10	Second issue, is venue proper? That's what
11	the Court addressed to Mr. Kincannon in the opening
12	colloquy. Court rule says plaintiffs can sue wherever
13	somebody resides. Court rule says the corporate
14	resides wherever it is, "actually doing business".
15	And we have the CREPY decision, and I may be
16	mispronouncing it. But in CREPY the Court had a
17	situation similar to this. Defendant is from Morris
18	County, plaintiff sues in Essex County. The defendant
19	actually has 332 sales calls in Essex County. The
20	defendant actually has sales in Essex County. The
21	defendant actually has advertising and marketing which
22	enters Essex County. All of which Mr. Kincannon just
23	said why we do business. And even accepting all of
24	that as the CREPY court did, the CREPY court said
25	that's not enough to impose venue.

1	me, no, Your Honor.
1 2	THE COURT: Okay. I want you to know I've
3	given a lot of thought to this motion. And I have read
4	the papers. I have read all the the cases actually
5	that you have cited and the exhibits.
6	As you will see as my decision is put on the
7	record I am granting the application, but I am granting
8	the application in part because as the assignment judge
9	making the decision of this motion and given the
10	concerns that plaintiffs raise of resources and
11	staffing the appropriate venue is going to be
12	Middlesex. Because Middlesex certainly has the
13	staffing and resources and actually quite obviates a
14	lot of the concerns that plaintiffs set forth in their
15	papers regarding Somerset. But I'll put every thing or
16	the record now.
17	I've already placed on the record the fact
18	that Judge Mizdol has by order dated September 24, 2018
19	appointed this court to hear and determine the
20	application for change of venue is a matter presently
21	before us.
22	Before this Court motions to change venue by
23	the defendants from Bergen County to Somerset County
24	regarding 109 cases has been fully briefed and we've
25	had oral argument. Although this only involves 109

1	cases this decision pertains to all cases filed by the

3	personal injury product liability claims concerning
4	hernia mesh other than physiomesh. And
5	parenthetically, clearly, physiomesh products are all
6	being heard in Atlantic County as an MCL.
7	As as as background it is necessary to
8	the put the following on the record. Plaintiffs,
9	except for two, reside outside the State of New Jersey.
10	None live in Bergen County.
11	The complaints allege that plaintiffs were
12	injured as a result of an Ethicon hernia mesh product
13	that was implanted after plaintiffs underwent hernia
14	repair surgery. Plaintiffs sued defendants Ethicon and
15	Johnson & Johnson in Bergen County alleging that they
16	were involved in the manufacture, design, and/or
17	distribution of the product that allegedly caused
18	injury to the plaintiff.
19	Neither the hernia repair surgery nor the
20	alleged injury occurred in Bergen County. Plaintiffs
21	do not reside in Bergen County. The manufacturer of
22	the product, Ethicon, is not located in Bergen County.
23	Ethicon is located in Somerset County. The other
24	defendant in this action, Johnson & Johnson, is located
25	in Middlesex County.

ILENE GOLD, et al. v. JOHNSON & JOHNSON, et al. -- September 28, 2018

	15 28
	GOLD VS. ETHICON
1	On January 11, 2018 counsel representing
2	plaintiffs in product liability cases involving hernia
3	mesh products against Ethicon and Johnson & Johnson
4	together with many other plaintiffs' law firms wrote to
5	the Honorable Robert L. Polifroni to request an early
6	case management conference to discuss to consolidate
7	the cases for discovery or an MCL application.
8	By letter dated January 25, 2018 Judge
9	Polifroni rejected plaintiff's informal attempt to
10	achieve MCL designation in Bergen County and reminded
11	plaintiff's counsel of the New Jersey MCL application
12	process. In this letter Judge Polifroni explained that
13	decisions by counsel to select a county of venue and
14	then request to have the matters consolidated and
15	handled by one judge outside the MCL format will not be
16	validated by this Court.
17	Judge Polifroni also noted that unless the
18	individual plaintiffs live in Bergen County it seems
19	unreasonable excuse me. It seems reasonable that
20	the most convenient venue would be the corporate
21	location of the defendants, which appears to be outside
22	of Bergen County.
23	Regardless of this letter plaintiff's counsel
24	continued to file hernia mesh lawsuits against
25	defendants in Bergen County even though Bergen County

1	somehow suffer prejudice if this action is transferred

3	asserts that plaintiff filed the action in Bergen
4	County due to its experience in managing a large volume
5	of cases involving other mesh products and that if
6	plaintiff knew a transfer of venue was possible, the
7	other plaintiffs would not have continued to file their
8	cases in Bergen County.
9	Plaintiff's arguments seeking out this Court
10	amounts to an admission of form shopping that courts
11	should discourage. Plaintiffs raise identical
12	arguments before the AOC and the New Jersey Supreme
13	Court in their MCL application, which was rejected by
14	the Supreme Court.
15	Specifically, plaintiff's counsel argued that
16	there should be an MCL established for all hernia mesh
17	products manufactured by Ethicon before this Court here
18	in Bergen County due to my substantial relevant
19	knowledge in handling the current and prior pelvic mesh
20	cases.
21	The Supreme Court did not establish an MCL in
22	Bergen County before this Court and created an MCL only
23	for the cases involving physiomesh before Judge Johnson
24	(phonetic) in Atlantic County and to prove my point now
25	it is before Judge Porto (phonetic).

1	Plaintiffs certainly were aware of potential
2	for venue to be transferred. Plaintiff and plaintiff's
3	counsel were on notice of potential venue transfer as
4	early as January 2018 when Judge Polifroni explicitly
5	expressed that unless an individual lives in Bergen
6	County the most convenient venue would be the corporate
7	location of the defendants, which is Somerset County
8	and Middlesex County.

Nevertheless, plaintiff's attorneys continued to file complaints in Bergen County. Plaintiff's arguments regarding waiver and/or prejudice are not compelling because actions continued to be filed here in Bergen after the July 12th, 2018 consent order was entered. Plaintiffs have continued to file cases in Bergen County after defendants filed their first motion to transfer venue.

Accordingly, plaintiff's argument that if plaintiff's knew about the potential for these cases to be transferred to Somerset County, I guess any other county, many of the plaintiffs subject to this motion may never have pursued this case in New Jersey is rejected by this Court. I have the rare opportunity to handle motions such as this for change of venue as Judge Mizdol's designees, but like an assignment judge matters of

1	judicial economy and efficiency must be considered in
2	all decision, including venue decisions.
3	As noted in plaintiff's opposition there are only three civil judges in Somerset County. The
5	concern is the resources available and Somerset County
6	to suddenly have over 150 cases like these as product
7	liability cases. Not only must this Court consider the
8	number of civil judges in Somerset County but also the
9	corresponding amount of support staff and other
10	resources in that county to handle its civil docket.
11	As noted in plaintiff's opposition as well as
12	in the moving papers of defendants, defendant Johnson &
13	Johnson is headquartered in Middlesex County and
14	Middlesex County is the neighboring county of Somerset.
15	Neither party has proposed a recommendation
16	to transfer a venue to Middlesex County, which is also
17	a proper venue. As this Court has previously discussed
18	Bergen County is not a proper venue. Somerset is a
19	proper venue, but so is Middlesex County a proper venue
20	as that is the county where Johnson & Johnson has its
21	headquarters.
22	It cannot be disputed that Middlesex County
23	has the resources and experience to handle cases such
24	as these. Middlesex County has the judicial resources
25	and support staffing resources to suddenly have a

2	Moreover, sending these cases to Middlesex County
3	obviates many of the issues that the plaintiffs were
4	concerned about involving lack of judicial resources in
5	Somerset as well as the fact that Ethicon is located in
7	Somerset County.
	This Court is confident that our New Jersey
8	voir dire protocols can eliminate any potential issue
9	concerning a potential juror's bias in connection to
10	Ethicon or Johnson & Johnson. There's no indication
11	whatsoever that a fair jury cannot be obtained in
12	Middlesex County, although your issues is raised as to
13	Somerset County, pertaining to these cases.
14	I personally know this can be done because
15	there has been a product liability litigation in
16	Middlesex County against Johnson & Johnson and that
17	litigation resulted in a plaintiff's verdict.
18	In sum, these cases have absolutely no nexus
19	to Bergen County. While this Court appreciates the
20	compliments that plaintiffs have provided in their
21	papers indicting that they have confidence that I would
22	be able to handle these hernia mesh cases, that's not
23	how assignment judges or our court system makes
24	decisions regarding venue. To do so would be
25	tantamount to judge shopping.

Our system does not allow the parties to pick a venue or a judge because they believe a particular judge would be well-suited for particular case or case type. Moreover, there's no guarantee that I would even be on this assignment during the litigation of these cases.

As I said before, one must reflect back to the pelvic mesh scenario where the cases were originally venued as an MCL Atlantic County before Judge Higby. Thereafter, Judge Higby was elevated to the Appellate Division and the cases were assigned to Bergen County before Judge Martinotti in 2014 and then reassigned to this court in 2016 as Judge Martinotti was elevated to the federal bench.

My point is that for counsel to indicate a particular judge would be well-suited to handle a case has nothing to do with venue for a venue decision. And moreover, there's no guarantee that the requested or suggested judge will oversee the litigation.

Accordingly, the motion of defense counsel is granted and these cases that are the subject of this motion are hereby transferred to Middlesex County as well as any other cases involving hernia mesh that do not involve physiomesh. I'm asking defense counsel to provide a list

Re: Ethicon Hernia Mesh Product (other than Physiomesh)

Dear Counsel,

In response to the enclosed Omnibus Order, signed October 9, 2018, by Bergen Vicinage, Hon. Rachelle L. Harz, J.S.C., which transferred from Bergen to Middlesex, one hundred sixty-six (166) product liability cases involving an Ethicon Hernia Mesh Product (other than Physiomesh). Please see the enclosed #08-12 directive regarding Multicounty Litigation Guidelines and Criteria for Designation, which outlines the procedure for requesting designation of a case as multicounty litigation for centralized management. Without Supreme Court classification as multicounty litigation, these cases will be assigned to different pretrial judges, based on the last two digits of the Middlesex County docket number, which will be assigned as they are transferred in from Bergen.

Sincerely,

Ian Ratzlaff

Directive # 08-12 [Supersedes Directive # 07-09]

Assignment Judges To: Civil Presiding Judges From: Glenn A. Grant, J.A.

Subj: Multicounty Litigation Guidelines (Formerly "Mass Tort Guidelines")

Date: August 7, 2012

The Supreme Court as part of its July 19, 2012 Omnibus Rule Amendment Order adopted revisions to Rule 4:38A, to be effective September 4, 2012. Accordingly, as of that date, Rule 4:38A will be captioned "Centralized Management of Multicounty Litigation"; prior thereto the rule was captioned "Centralized Management of Mass Torts".

Rule 4:38A provides that the Court shall adopt procedures for the centralized management of cases covered by the rule, with those procedures to be promulgated by the Administrative Director. This directive promulgates the attached "Multicounty Litigation Guidelines and Criteria for Designation" ("Multicounty Litigation Guidelines"), effective September 4, 2012. Directive #07-09, which promulgated the Revised Mass Tort Guidelines, is therefore superseded as of that same September 4, 2012 date.

The revisions to the court rule and to the guidelines were solely to replace the superseded "Mass Tort" terminology with new "Multicounty Litigation" terminology.

Questions regarding Multicounty Litigation Guidelines promulgated by this directive may be directed to Leslie A. Santora, Esq., Chief, Civil Court Programs, Civil Practice Division, AOC, by phone at 609-292-8471 or by LotusNotes email.

MULTICOUNTY LITIGATION GUIDELINES AND CRITERIA FOR DESIGNATION

[As Promulgated by Directive # 08-12 Pursuant to Rule 4:38A]

Procedure for Requesting Designation of a Case as Multicounty Litigation for Centralized Management

The Assignment Judge of any vicinage or an attorney involved in a case or cases that may constitute multicounty litigation may apply to the Supreme Court, through the Administrative Director of the Courts, to have the case(s) classified as multicounty litigation, and assigned to a designated judge for centralized management. The Assignment Judge or attorney making such an application must give notice to all parties then involved in the case(s), advising that the application has been made and that a Notice to the Bar will appear in the legal newspapers and in the Multicounty Litigation Information Center on the Judiciary's Internet website providing information on where and within what time period comments on and objections to the application may be made.

Such Notice advising of the application and requesting comments or objections will be sent by the Administrative Director to all Assignment Judges and Civil Presiding Judges, will be published by the Administrative Director in the legal newspapers, and will be posted on the Judiciary's Internet website both in the Notices section and in the Multicounty Litigation Information-Center. Once the comment period has closed, the Administrative Director of the Courts will present the application, along with a compilation of any comments and objections received, to the Supreme Court for its review and determination.

If the Supreme Court determines that the case(s) should be classified as multicounty litigation and assigned to a designated judge for centralized management and, in that judge's discretion, trial, an appropriate Order will be entered. The Order will be sent to all Assignment Judges and Civil Presiding Judges, will be published in the legal newspapers, and will be posted in the Multicounty Litigation Information Center on the Judiciary's Internet website.

Criteria to be Applied in Determining Whether Designation as Multicounty Litigation is Warranted

In determining whether designation as multicounty litigation is warranted, the following factors, among others, will be considered:

- whether the case(s) possess(es) the following characteristics:
  - it involves large numbers of parties;

- it involves many claims with common, recurrent issues of law and fact that are associated with a single product, mass disaster, or complex environmental or toxic tort;
- there is geographical dispersement of parties;
- there is a high degree of commonality of injury or damages among plaintiffs;
- there is a value interdependence between different claims, that is, the perceived strength or weakness of the causation and liability aspects of the case(s) are often dependent upon the success or failure of similar lawsuits in other jurisdictions; and
- there is a degree of remoteness between the court and actual decisionmakers in the litigation, that is, even the simplest of decisions may be required to pass through layers of local, regional, national, general and house counsel.
- whether there is a risk that centralization may unreasonably delay the progress, increase the expense, or complicate the processing of any action, or otherwise prejudice a party;
  - -whether-centralized-management-is_fair_and_convenient_to_the_parties, witnesses_ and counsel;
- whether there is a risk of duplicative and inconsistent rulings, orders or judgments if the cases are not managed in a coordinated fashion;
- whether coordinated discovery would be advantageous;
- whether the cases require specialized expertise and case processing as provided by the dedicated multicounty litigation judge and staff;
- whether centralization would result in the efficient utilization of judicial resources and the facilities and personnel of the court;
- whether issues of insurance, limits on assets and potential bankruptcy can be best addressed in coordinated proceedings; and
- whether there are related matters pending in Federal court or in other state courts that require coordination with a single New Jersey judge.

Choice of Site for Centralized Management

Issues of fairness, geographical location of parties and attorneys, and the existing civil and multicounty litigation caseload in the vicinage will be considered in determining to which vicinage a particular multicounty litigation will be assigned for centralized management. This decision will be made by the Supreme Court.

Subsequent Related Actions

The initial order of the Supreme Court denominating a particular category of cases as multicounty litigation and referring those cases to a particular county for centralized management may specify that subsequent related actions are to be transferred from the counties in which they are filed to the designated multicounty litigation county and judge without further application to the Supreme Court.

Severance

The multicounty litigation judge may thereafter review the cases designated as a multicounty litigation and assigned for centralized management, and may sever and return to the original county(ies) of venue any that no longer warrant centralization.

Termination of Centralized Management

When the multicounty litigation judge determines that centralized management is no longer necessary or appropriate under the circumstances, he or she will send a written report to the Administrative Director, with copies to the Assignment Judge, Civil Presiding Judge, Trial Court Administrator, Civil Division Manager of his or her vicinage and all counsel of record in any pending cases. The report shall provide details of matters resolved as well as the particulars concerning any unresolved matters including whether the latter will be returned to their original county(ies) of venue or will continue to be handled until resolution by the multicounty litigation judge. This report will be presented to the Supreme Court for review. Thereafter, a Notice to the Bar advising of the request and requesting comments or objections will be sent to all Assignment Judges and Civil Presiding Judges, will be published by the Administrative Director in the legal newspapers and will be posted on the Judiciary's Internet website both in the Notices section and in the Multicounty Litigation Information Center.

Once the comment period has closed, the Administrative Director of the Courts will present the termination request, along with a compilation of any comments and objections received, to the Supreme Court for its review and determination.

If the Supreme Court determines that the multicounty litigation designation should be terminated, it may terminate the centralized management or determine that continuing the centralized management of any pending and future such cases by the designated multicounty litigation judge is warranted. Following the Supreme Court's determination, an appropriate order will be entered. The order will be sent to all Assignment Judges and Civil Presiding Judges, will be published in the legal newspapers and will be posted on the Judiciary's Internet website both in the Notices section and in the Multicounty Litigation Information Center.
