RE: JP Morgan Chase vs. Various Defendants
F-30403-13
US Bank for JP Morgan Chase vs. Cardella
F- 39624-08

Gentlemen:

I am the owner of 457 17th Avenue, Brick, New Jersey.

It is my understanding that JP Morgan Chase Bank alleges that it holds a valid first mortgage on this property, once owned by one Joseph Cardella.

It is my understanding that JP Morgan Chase has requested a hearing in Paterson, New Jersey on January 16, 2014 with regard to this and many other cases to amend or otherwise rectify invalid and erroneous prior notices of intents to foreclose.

No such notice has come to me or my predecessors in title.

Wherefore, I request that JP Morgan Chase immediately serve upon me any and all paperwork with regard to such notices and this pending motion so that I may respond. In the event that it does not, I request that this case be severed from all other cases until such service is made upon me and I have adequate time to respond.

Very truly yours,

Laura Rhodes, 412 River Avenue,
Point Pleasant Beach, N.J. 08742
